

God is on his way

Leporello, 12 pages, painted on both sides.
The inside and outside of the cover are also painted.

God is on his way, he floats in the clouds and rushes through the world – seeing everything, hearing everything but not interfering.

Black and yellow boxes are spread out on the cover and on some pages symbolising dark and light mysteries. The boxes are open but their contents are hidden from our sight.

